

Beloved Presence

By Rev. Charles D. Geddes

*It is my Soul Intention to begin this day open and free, releasing yesterday.
I let go of my attachments to outcomes and trust in a divine process unfolding.*

I am passionate in this moment called Now.

I am in gratitude for the privilege of "breath."

I remember – everything comes to pass except the feeling I leave in the hearts of those I have touched.

I embrace this day and give it my best.

I release each night whatever came to be, knowing with the new dawn it's up to me what I write on this fresh new page of opportunity.

I claim the courage to move on to new horizons, and venture into the unknown.

In this Soul Intention, all that I ever need is within me to rise, to be the Victor.

This is the covenant I made in the beginning to purely be the Spirit and LOVE I AM, to ever deepen in this Presence I know as the Beloved.

It is my Soul Intention to begin this day open and free, releasing yesterday.

And So – I let it be.
